

Member Feedback: Thank-You Cards

Quincy Liu

I was very happy to have received the seed card and have appreciated the hands-on work that has gone into sending it to me and all the other Fool subscribers via snail mail. Since I distinctly have no green fingers, I have given the card to my neighbor who has. Am eagerly waiting to see the splendid result. Fool on.

I am extremely impressed! Yet another example of MF's personal service and attention. The "longtime Fool" sticker is on my fridge, where I see it every day and smile. The seed card of wildflowers I cannot plant, as I live in a townhouse with no garden space; however, I gave to a friend who has the space. Thank you for that nice surprise and for your longtime help and education.

The wonderful card arrived yesterday and I loved it! The good wishes and humor add some cheer to every day and that plus the expert investing advice has kept me in the Foolish world all these years. We are at the end of our growing season here in the midwest so I will save the seeds until next spring when I can enjoy them all season. I'm an active gardener and I applaud your efforts to get everyone to do a little planting and growing! Thanks for the greetings!

I planted the card, as shown in the attached photo in a blue pot and the first (9'ish) sprouts have already poked their head above the turf. My TMF LT sticker is propped up behind my head on the bookshelves so that when I do a video con, it will be visible to the discerning viewer... (except when I have a Disney or Trek virtual background up instead :) UPDATE: Just took a look this morning, and it appears there are three new, if tiny, plants poking up through the soil, leading us to a total of 12 so far, most small, but all with the same two leaf structure so far...Progress, slow but steady!

Thanks for the card. My little granddaughter will plant it next spring. We're excited to see what will grow. The sticker is on the door to my bureau, so everybody can see, who is working inside. Fool on

I was really touched by this kind gesture. I appreciate the original thought very much. I've put the sticker on the window above my desk, to remind me how to view things in perspective. Many many thanks, with my warm regards to you all.

My wife is the expert for plants and she decided that we start with the seed in two weeks, when the summer heat is gone. The card is on my business desk, along with the sticker, to remind me that investing is a rather long time process.

Like my seeds with The Motley Fool, the card was absolutely planted and thus far has received loving attention, care, and patience.....waiting for those seeds to show signs of growth. 😊

Thanks MF, I did receive your card - a great idea to impregnate with flower seeds, which has been used. The tag is also a nice touch. Cheers to the next 20 years.

Hi Fools, I did receive and appreciate the note, sticker, and seed paper.

The note made me look back on my investing results over the years, and while I have been somewhat frustrated at times with recommendations or newsletters that did not work out, overall my years with The Motley Fool have been very successful. I plan to remain with The Motley Fool for many more years. Thank you all!!

Thanks for the card. FYI my first newsletter when I joined was made from 4 sheets of printer paper printed both sides, folded and stapled to make a 8.5 x5.5 inch booklet and came by snail mail. Later they were emailed and I printed them at my office. Sure wish I had saved a few of those. Thanks

Have not planted it yet; will do so this weekend. I put my Fool sticker on my refrigerator. Thank you - You all have been a tremendous help with my investment strategy!!

We plan to take a picture of the plants when and if they pop out and will send one to you. We are likewise awaiting the proof of life of the plants before placing the decal. Stay tuned, and thanks again.
